NEW WORDS FOR "DIXIE"

Old "Cinnamon Seed and Sandy Bottom" Thrown

Out by Women. ST. LOUIS, May 24.—Women of the Confederate Choir of America have officially fitted new words to the tune of "Dixie," The old words, they say, are not suited to the grandeur of the song or the cause for which it sings Confederate veterans condemn the change. The new stanzas are:

O, Dixle land is the land of glory. O, Dixle land is the land of giory.
The land of cherished song and story.
Look away, look away, look away, Dixle land.
Tis the land that patriots love to dwell in.
The land our fathers fought and fell in.
Look away, look away, look away, Dixle land.

I'm glad I live in Dixie, hurrah, hurrah, (Rest of chorus unchanged.) The blue and gray went out to battle,
And loud they made war's thunder rattle,
Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.
Our cause we lost, but won a glory,
Which still will last when time is hoary,
Look away, look away, look away, Dixie land.
